On the occasion of honour

Anushka Anastasia Solomon | Mar 19, 09 4:22pm

1. The night sky stands vanguard as stars shine with ardor Irene encircles local history marking it with candor Outstretched like an ancient aging tree, at sixty two
She burns relentless at the altar like the sun and camphor.
2. I would call Her the Rosa Parks of our nation. Her hot Pursuit of Justice, ranks higher in my book than the Pursuit of Happyness. Her mahatma hands push the dark Nights of the soul back. She shines a star of armistice.
3. And yet it is not to her. Not to Irene Fernandez honours go.
Though our homegrown flower of hope pushes up Though our Edelweiss sings 'bless our homeland forever'
We remain set as cracked stone under Michelangelo
4. Though She lifts the hem of the Malaysian Dream
Though she stitches thirteen years of true pursuit
We prefer the illusions of the silver screen. What |Next, why not award Will Smith a Datukship?
5. All of Hollywood and Bollywood. Come. Come.
Lelong. Lelong. Jual murah. Your world of make belief has won Malaysia over. Before you, our girls and grandmothers swoon, Governors and Heads of State and their wives lose their minds, mind you! They'll shine your shoe.
6. Marilyn Monroe was right: 'Hollywood is a place where they will pay You a thousand dollars for a kiss and fifty cents for your soul.' Malaysia I had hoped was different but we all fall fool for illusion. Perhaps it is I. I have not learned to read the stars. Perhaps the homeland is delusion.
